Honorable Members of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, with copies to

Honorable Karen Redman, Regional Chair, Waterloo Region
Honorable Dave Jaworsky, Mayor, City of Waterloo
Honorable Berry Vrbanovic, Mayor, City of Kitchener

I am writing to you as a deeply concerned citizen. I may lose my permanent position that I worked hard for since graduating with a [REDACTED] in the near future because of my steadfast refusal to submit to the mandatory vaccination and testing policy adopted by the University of Waterloo. Waterloo administration has redirected responsibility in their response that they are simply "following orders from above", e.g., the Council of Ontario Universities, and that "vaccines are safe and effective". This is their way of "passing the buck", so I am now writing to the place where the proverbial "buck stops", i.e., the Government of Ontario.

I have been a contributing member to the economy since adulthood, working part time through my education, working for [REDACTED] upon graduation, and then returning to my home university to continue in a role that encourages our bright minds for the future. All of my experience in my young life has demonstrated to me the value in working to serve others, Ontarians, and the value of critical thinking and academic rigor. I have been trained in my education to think critically, and I have experienced the power of serving others to make a positive impact in this world. I am at a complete loss at how our elected officials can regulate and advise cruel threats to lose employment under the guise of protecting the greater good. We are asking 20% of our population to go unemployed, unable to provide for their families, to unlawfully disclose a medical treatment to their employer and take a medical treatment against their will which will not even prevent transmission of COVID-19. Furthermore, we have evidence that the vaccine no longer protects against the current variants of the virus, because COVID-19 mutates in response to immunity, in response to a barrier. So nor does the vaccine protect the individual. The vaccine, quite simply and unfortunately, cannot reduce hospitalizations, reduce the burden on our healthcare system and cannot adequately protect people to justify overriding bodily autonomy.

You are very busy people with many responsibilities, and I can respect and empathize that we are in a changing situation with so much data that we do not even know what to do with. I beg you, however, to consider the amount of uncertainty we are faced with compared with the purported solution which involves overriding basic human rights to bodily security and autonomy. If we are so willing to surrender our bodily autonomy in such uncertain times, what freedom will Canadians fight for?

I was severely disappointed that a Conservative MPP blocked Roman Baber's Jobs and Jabs bill. Roman Baber is an MPP listening to constituents, listening to Ontarians, upholding the importance of employment for all Ontarians as a true Conservative, fighting for increased individual freedom as any Conservative should uphold, and a member of his own party blocked the efforts to advance right wing policies. If that is not hypocritical, and going against all you stand for, all you were elected to promote, I don't know what is.

Respected Members of Provincial Parliament, I am asking you, as we have asked the University of Waterloo on several occasions, https://links.uwaterloo.ca/Repeal_UW_Mandatory_Vaccination_Policy/

TO RECIND ANY AND ALL SUPPORT FOR MANDATORY VACCINATION POLICIES (not mandatory policies regarding vaccination, as you have prescribed) AND ANNOUNCE THAT MANDATORY VACCINATION IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL AND WILL NOT BE PROTECTED. Mandatory Vaccination policies are not only ineffective, they are destructive. They are discriminatory and responsible for the creation of a new group of outcasts, the "unvaccinated", to whom - thanks to the media, the medical establishment and government - society has been given permission to direct its anger. Our respected Premier Doug Ford identified this earlier this year, and now has backpedaled under pressure. He was wise in his words identifying the infringement of rights and creation of a divided society, and now here we are with this exact result, and the hospitalizations have not decreased despite increased vaccination and coercion to be inoculated.

There are other solutions, dear and respected Members of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario. I beg you to listen to the growing number of experts who, despite pressures from the establishment, have been advocating these other solutions that protect our rights and freedoms as much as the save lives. I trust quite confidently that you have been provided with links and data and evidence and studies from other writers supporting these points, whether you choose to investigate them or not, so I will not include them here. But of course the purpose is to demonstrate that I am another constituent who has reached the same conclusions and am yet another imploring you to no longer allow for mandatory vaccination policies to continue. You are our elected officials representing us, and our voices of opposition to these mandates continue to grow in tandem with mounting evidence of the ineffectiveness of mandatory vaccination. Do not let one more Ontarian lose their job over their conscious.

Thanking you in advance for your attention to this serious matter,

Yours sincerely,
